

Hello Customers!

Thank you for your interest in our Cooking with Class Courses. Please accept our apology; all of our winter classes have been booked. Classes are expected to resume in the Spring/Summer 2014. Thank you for your wonderful ratings and feedback. We will keep you updated on the classes and dates as they become available. In the meantime, private in home classes, parties and special event cooking classes are available. Please feel free to call or email us for information or any questions you may have.

Sincerely,
Management
